Last Revised: 3-11-2024

SDS collects personally identifiable information ("PII"), such as your e-mail address, physical address, name, and phone number, and credit card information, on its website when you register, save a design, or place an order. SDS also may collect non-personally identifiable information, such as general geographic information, about you.

SDS may also passively collect information about your computer hardware and software. This information may include: your IP address, browser type, domain names, access times and referring website addresses, SDS templates made, activity on the site, operating system information, and other similar information. This information is used by SDS for the operation of its services, to maintain quality of service, and to provide general statistics regarding use of the SDS website.

SDS is committed to protecting your privacy while providing quality services that give you an enjoyable and safe online experience. This Privacy Statement (this "Statement") applies to the SDS website at www.samedaysigns.biz and governs the data collection and usage by Same Day Signs in connection with this website. By using the SDS website, you consent to the data practices described in this Statement.

Use of Information about You

SDS collects and uses information about you, including PII, and your use of the website to operate the website and affiliated websites and to deliver the services you have requested. SDS also uses PII from time to time to inform you of other products or services available from SDS and its affiliates. SDS may also contact you via surveys to conduct research about your opinion of current services or of potential new services. Note that you may opt out of being contacted by SDS for any research or product updates at any time through links at the bottom of every email from SDS.

Collection of Information about You

In addition, SDS may share data, including PII, with trusted partners to help us perform statistical analysis, send you email or postal mail, provide customer support, or arrange for deliveries. SDS requires these third parties to maintain the confidentiality of your information and to not use your PII except to provide services to SDS. SDS keeps track of the websites and pages our customers visit within and from the SDS website in order to determine what SDS services are the most popular. This data is used to deliver customized content and advertising from SDS to customers whose behavior indicates that they are interested in a particular subject area.

SDS will not use or disclose sensitive personally identifiable information about you, such as race, religion, or political affiliations, without your express consent. SDS does not collect PII from you to track you over time, and across third party websites. As a result, SDS does not specifically respond to web browser Do Not Track signals.

SDS collects personally identifiable information on its website when you register, save a design, or order, such as your e-mail address, physical address, name, and phone number, and credit card information. SDS also may collect non-personally identifiable information, such as general geographic information, about you.

SDS will disclose personally identifiable information about you without notice to you only if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) conform to the requirements of the law or comply with legal process served on SDS or the site; (b) protect and defend the rights or property of SDS; and, (c) act under exigent circumstances to protect the personal safety of SDS, SDS users, or the public.

Use of Cookies

SDS also may collect information about your computer hardware and software that is automatically collected by SDS. This information can include: your IP address, browser type, domain names, access times and referring Web site addresses, templates made, path through the site, operating system information, and other similar information. This information is used by SDS for the operation of its services, to maintain quality of service, and to provide general statistics regarding use of the SDS web site.

One of the primary purposes of cookies is to provide a convenience feature to save you time. The purpose of a cookie is to tell the website server that you have returned to a specific page. For example, if you register with the SDS website or services, a cookie helps SDS recall your specific information on subsequent visits. This simplifies the process of recording your personally identifiable information, such as your billing addresses, shipping addresses, and other similar information. When you return to the same SDS web site, the information you previously provided can be retrieved, so you can easily use the SDS features that you have customized.

You have the ability to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. If you choose to decline cookies, you may not be able to fully experience the interactive features of the SDS services or websites you visit.

SDS encourages you to review the privacy statements of websites you choose to visit from links that may be posted on the SDS website so that you can understand how those websites collect, use and share your information. SDS is not responsible for the privacy statements or other content on websites outside of the SDS website.

SDS does not sell "personal information"; however, SDS collects the following personal information from California residents solely for "business purposes," as that term is defined in the CCPA:

- Name
- Physical Address
- Email Address
- Phone Number
- IP Address
- Behavioral Data
- Use of Information about You:

- Order Fulfillment
- Marketing of Capital Banners products

Any service providers used in the course of fulfilling the above business purposes are contractually obligated to use personal information received from SDS solely for the purpose of providing the service providers' service to SDS.

SDS collects and uses information about you, including personally identifiable information, and your use of the SDS website to operate the SDS website[and affiliated websites] and deliver the services you have requested. SDS also uses personally identifiable information from time to time to inform you of other products or services available from SDS and its affiliates. SDS may also contact you via surveys to conduct research about your opinion of current services or of potential new services that may be offered. Note that at any time you may opt out of being contacted by SDS for any research or product updates, through clear links at the bottom of every email.

You may exercise your rights under the CCPA by email us at sales@samedaysigns.biz

Security

SDS may, from time to time, contact you on behalf of external business partners about a particular offering that may be of interest to you. SDS also uses third-party companies to help serve targeted product recommendations. These companies may use data about you collected from this site in order to provide recommendations for products and services that might be of interest to you. To learn more about behavioral advertising or to opt out of this type of advertising, you can visit networkadvertising.org.

SDS will not record, store, or save your credit card number without providing notice to you and receiving your express consent.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we do our best to protect your personal information, we cannot guarantee the security of your personal information transmitted to the SDS website. Any transmission of personal information is at your own risk. We are not responsible for circumvention of any privacy settings or security measures contained on the SDS website.

In addition, SDS may share data, including personally identifiable information, with trusted partners to help us perform statistical analysis, send you email or postal mail, provide customer support, or arrange for deliveries. SDS generally requires these third parties to maintain the confidentiality of your information and to not use your personally identifiable information except to provide services to SDS.

SDS may occasionally update this Privacy Statement to reflect changes in our practices or applicable law. SDS encourages you to periodically review this Statement to be informed of how SDS is protecting your information. If SDS modifies this Statement, we will make it available through this website, and indicate the date of the latest revision. In the event that the modifications materially alter your rights or obligations hereunder, SDS will make reasonable efforts to notify you of the change. For example, SDS may send a message to your email address, if we have one on file, or generate a pop-up or similar notification when you access the website for the first time after such material changes are made. Your continued use of the SDS website after the revised Statement has become effective indicates that you have read, understood and agreed to the current version of this Statement.

Contact Information

SDS will not use or disclose sensitive personally identifiable information about you, such as race, religion, or political affiliations, without your explicit consent.
